Flora's NZ Gardening Calendar and Planting by the Moon

Although not necessarily scientifically understood, people have long accepted that lunar activity is somehow a regulator of life on earth.

Successful planting and growing are very much under the spell of the moon. By means of colour coding the days, this calendar endeavours to simplify the planning of your garden activities – sowing, propagation, cultivation, weeding and garden maintenance. By following this timetable you should find a greater success factor in the outcome of your gardening efforts.
